Important to Lumbermen
AND
Owners of Hemlock Lands.

THE AMERICAN PATENTED IMPROVEMENT TANNING COMPANY, of New York own the exclusive right in the United States for the manufacture of an imperishable "EXTRACT" from Hemlock Bark for tanning purposes. The Bark Extract is now extensively used among Tanners, and the demand for it is rapidly increasing. It commands a ready sale in the Boston, New York and Philadelphia markets, at sixty cents per gallon. The appliances for manufacturing are simple and not expensive, costing but little more than the ordinary leaches used by Tanners. By this process 1½ cords of bark may be reduced so as to concentrate the entire strength into forty gallons of Extract, without in the slightest degree injuring its tanning qualities, and as a cost not exceeding one dollar per cord. The saving in freight alone, between the transportation of the Extract and the Bark, will range from six to eight dollars per cord, so that any one who may get out but three hundred cords of Bark per year, may save from two thousand to twenty-five hundred dollars in the difference in freight.

The Company does not propose to sell Territorial rights, but will grant exclusive privilege to manufacture in certain localities, charging a small royalty per gallon on the amount manufactured.

The Company will send competent men to superintend the construction of works, where parties desire to enter into the business, and to instruct in the manufacture of the Extract.

As a guarantee of success to parties entering into this business, the Company will contract to take all the Extract manufactured under their process at fifty cents per gallon, delivered in Boston or New York.

Parties in Maine desiring further information as to terms, &c., may call upon or address CHARLES HALE, General Agent for Maine, 24 Main street, Bangor, where models of the apparatus may be seen.

FELLOWS' ORIGINAL
WORM LOZENGES.

WE can with confidence point to FELLOWS' WORM LOZENGES as the most perfect remedy for those troublesome pests,

INTESTINAL WORMS.

After years of careful experiment, success has crowned our efforts, and we now offer to the world a confection without a single fault, being safe, convenient, effectual and pleasant. No injurious result can occur, let them be used in whatever quantity. Not a particle of calomel enters their composition. They may be used without further preparation, and at any time. Children will eagerly devour all you give them, and ask for more. They never fail in expelling Worms from their dwelling-place, and they will always strengthen the weak and emaciated, even when he is not afflicted with worms.

Various remedies have, from time to time, been recommended, such as calomel, oil of wormseed, turpentine, &c., producing dangerous and sometimes fatal consequences. After much research, study and experiments, embracing several years, the proprietors of FELLOWS' WORM LOZENGES have succeeded in producing this remedy, free from all objections, and positively safe, pleasant and effectual. They do not kill the worms, but act by making their dwelling-place disagreeable to them. In order to assure consumers of the genuineness of these Lozenges, the analysis of DR. A. A. HAYES, State Assayer, is annexed:—

"I have analyzed the WORM LOZENGES prepared by Messrs FELLOWS & CO., and find that they are free from mercury and other metallic or mineral matter. These Lozenges are skilfully compounded, pleasant to the taste, safe, yet sure and effectual in their action. Respectfully, A. A. HAYES, M.D.
Assayer to the State of Mass."

Price 25 cents per Box; Five for $1.

State Temperance Convention.

At the annual session of the Grand Division of the Sons of Temperance in October, that body deeming it desirable that a general convention of the friends of Temperance in the State should be held during the present winter, three of its officers were made a committee to unite with the representatives of other Temperance organizations and other friends of the cause in calling and making arrangements for such a convention. The prompt and cordial co-operation of the officers of the Grand Lodge of the Order of Good Templars was at once secured, and a circular was at once sent to many friends of the cause, in different sections of the State, requesting them to unite in this call, from a large number of whom responses have been received expressing their approval and support of the movement.

We therefore respectfully and earnestly invite all friends of the Temperance cause throughout the State, to meet in Convention, in

GRANITE HALL, AUGUSTA.
On Thursday, January 24th, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

All temperance organizations, local temperance meetings and conventions, and all Sunday schools, churches and other religious bodies, are requested to send delegates to this convention, and all friends of Temperance, whether they are or are not connected with any organization, are earnestly invited to come together on this occasion and unite in a common effort to promote this great reform.

Much has been accomplished in behalf of this great cause, but much yet remains to be done.—Thousands have been saved by the PLEDGE, but other thousands are yearly going down to the drunkard's death. A vast and noble army has been enrolled under the Temperance Banner to battle against Intemperance, in the various Temperance organizations of the day; but the wine-cup and the dram-shop have recruited a still greater host.

Great victories have been won, in the reform of social custom, moral sentiment and legislation, but there are hard battles yet to be fought. Drinking usages and the liquor traffic have, by the progress of the temperance reform, been placed under a ban from which they can never escape, but they still constitute the greatest moral and social evil in the nation.

Let the friends of Temperance rally, then, to organize renewed resistance to this great evil. Let them come together in this Convention to give a new impetus to the temperance work, and to endeavor to unite the temperance sentiment of the State in a common effort to promote it. This will be the work of the Convention, and in addressing itself to this work, various topics will be presented for its consideration. The most important of these will be—The means of uniting the efforts of all the friends of Temperance in the State most effectively for identical and united action in behalf of the cause; the necessity of a better enforcement of the laws against the liquor traffic, and the best means of securing it; The political duties of temperance men, and the means of securing fidelity to temperance principles and measures in all places of official position and public trust; the duty of the church to the cause; the duty of Temperance men and women in the training of the young, etc.

Maine has always been in the fore-front of the temperance movement. Let her keep her place there still. She has given to the cause the mighty watchword of PROHIBITION; let her clothe her LAW with the majesty and power which shall make it inviolate. Let us come together at her capital and speak her voice against the iniquity which is spoiling her of so much of virtue, strength, happiness, wealth and prosperity, and let us with earnest hearts unite in the effort to redeem our State and Nation from the curse and crime of Intemperance.

Fenianism in New York—Foreign News

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.

James Stephens appeared in person last evening at a Fenian meeting composed of centres and delegates from circles in the Manhattan district, and made a statement explanatory of the causes that had prevented him from fulfilling his pledge to commence the fight for Irish freedom last year, which proved satisfactory. He further stated that he transferred the direction of the military affairs of the Brotherhood into the hands of military men, and that he should hereafter confine himself to the control of the civil department.

A full reconciliation has taken place between Col. Kelley and Stephens. The latter appears to be in a very delicate state of health. It is understood that he will take his departure for Ireland without delay.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.

Steamship Belgian arrived at Portland last night.

Fenianism exhibits no new phase. Seizures of arms and ammunition, and scattering arrests of more or less importance, continue to be almost daily reported.

At a railway station at Dublin, Lord Langford had been arrested for having in his possession a double-barreled gun and a quantity of ammunition, without a license to carry the same in the District of Dublin. He was admitted to bail, but the gun was detained. He had just arrived by train.

Mr. Gladstone had been suffering from a severe throat affection in Rome, but was convalescent.

FRANCE.

The French Chambers will open in February. The news of the failure of the French in Corea, is confirmed by telegraph via Kiochta, which reports the expedition a total failure, and that the natives were greatly elated and European prestige much damaged.

AUSTRIA.

Rumors of important ministerial changes in Austria were again rife.

CANDIA.

Advices from Athens, to Dec. 29, confirm the statement that Mustaffa had attacked the position of the Cretans near Caros, and had been repulsed with great loss. Mustaffa was said to be retreating, the defeat having prevented him from accomplishing his design of advancing into the province of Selma.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.

The World has the following special cable despatches:

Paris, 10th. Seven more transports have sailed for Mexico.

It is believed the French troops in Mexico will be ready by the 15th of February.

Constantinople, 10th. The people have issued a note to the different powers, calling serious attention to the present state of affairs existing between the Ottoman Empire and Greece, and says if no favorable result is reached by its efforts to maintain peace, necessary steps for the defense of Turkish honor and national integrity will be taken. Indications of serious trouble between Turkey and Greece are increasing, and the people continue to send troops to the Greek frontier.

Paris, 10th. A rumor has obtained currency, on apparently trustworthy authority, that Austria, France and Italy, have entered into an alliance on the Eastern question, and that Russia and Prussia, have made a similar agreement.

The Bourse closed at 68f. 82c.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.

Steamer Persia, with Liverpool dates of 29th of last month and Queenstown 30th, arrived this morning.

Fenian arrests were made daily.

The Anglo-American Telegraph Co. announce that the profits exceeding expectation, they will make a dividend early in February on account, equal to ten per cent. leaving the remainder, 15 per cent., to be disposed of at the annual meeting in July or August.

The St. Croix and Lake Superior Railroad Co., in a prospectus, invite subscriptions for £1,300,000 in 7 per cent. bonds at 62½. The line is to run from the border of Minnesota through Wisconsin to Lake Superior, between Hudson and Bayfield, and claims a grant of 1,604,000 acres of land.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.

The National Equal Rights League Convention of colored men have passed a series of resolutions which embrace the following points:

1st. The right to wield the ballot because we are American citizens, and as such entitled to it.

2d. Because we are tax payers, and as such justly entitled to full representation in State and federal governments.

3d. Because we are patriots, and as such have proved our loyalty to the country by our self-sacrificing behavior in the hour of sorest trial.

4th. Because it is a natural and inherent right pertaining to every native born an American citizen, whether white or black, who has reached his majority.

A committee was appointed to wait upon the reconstruction committee and ask for a business interview.

AGRICULTURAL. The use of mules has greatly increased in the northern States since the war, to the decided advantage of our farmers. The mule bears rough treatment better, is hardier, tougher, easier fed and cared for, and less liable to disease than any other draught animal in the country. The American Agriculturist has the following sensible remarks upon the use of this animal.

"We are glad to see that the use of mules for all kinds of hard, rough work, is steadily gaining ground. These animals are not beautiful or musical, but they are useful and economical. They are fit for work younger than the horse, since they are put to service at three years old, though they do not reach their maturity until seven years of age.—Their temper, health and usefulness depend very much on the manner of breaking them. The so-called stubbornness and obstinacy of this animal arises chiefly from the abuse he is wont to receive when young. He seldom if ever bites or kicks those who treat him kindly. But the fact is, that the club and whip and whip-handle and boot-toe are applied to him without mercy, and yet he is expected to be always as patient and gentle as a cow!

The mule will do more work, and require less grain than a horse; he is less liable to disease, and recovers from injury and sickness quicker than a horse. He works better when old, and holds out longer. He seldom takes fright, or runs away. He does not like over-loading when drawing heavy loads, and he should never be driven very fast.—In making up spans (those of fifteen to fifteen and a half hands high make most serviceable teams), those of similar dispositions should be chosen and put together, so that they will work together pleasantly and with a will. The mule seems made for work—he thrives under it, and is better in spirits and temper than when idle."

DISCOURAGING TO CERTAIN OFFICE-HOLDERS. Mr. Sumner will to-morrow move an important amendment to the bill before the Senate which requires that Pension Agents now appointed by the Secretary of the Interior shall be appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate. To this Mr. Sumner proposes to add:

"This all other agents or officers appointed by the President, or by any head of department, whose salary or compensation derived from fees, or otherwise exceeds one thousand dollars annually, shall be appointed by the President by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and the term of office of all such officers appointed since the day of ——, shall expire at the end of thirty days from the passage of this act; provided that this is not applicable to Clerks of the Departments."

This will be a damper on the prospects of the bread and butter brigade. Honest, faithful and competent men have been removed simply because they have refused to bow to Executive dictation, and political soldiers of fortune occupy their places.

Congress now proposes to legislate those men out of office, and to force the President to send the names of his appointees to the places they now hold to the Senate for confirmation. This Congress has an undisputed right to do.

There is, however, a wide difference of opinion as to whether the President can ignore and repudiate the deliberate judgment of the Senate by reappointing rejected nominees. All the Attorney Generals to whom the questions have been submitted, and all the Presidents since the days of Washington, have concurred in the doctrine that the President is at liberty to reappoint one who has been rejected by the Senate, but many good lawyers now in Congress, among them Reverdy Johnson, think that when the President makes a nomination to the Senate he has exhausted his power, and when the Senate rejects that nomination there is an end to that appointment, and he cannot, after the close of the session, renominate that person to the same office without violating the spirit of the Constitution, and, in a measure, violating his oath of office. It there is a contest between the President and Congress, it will be upon this question of reappointment.—[Special to Boston Journal.

THE MISER AND HIS BAG. The London Lancet says:—"A good illustration occurred a few days since of the strength of the ruling passion in death. An old man in his last illness was admitted into one of the metropolitan hospitals. He was without relatives, friends, or apparent means of subsistence; but, when undressed and put into bed, a bag of money was found suspended by a string round his neck. To this he clung with tenacity, refusing to part with it to any one, and wearing it about him by day and night. As his end approached the treasure became a matter of anxiety to those tending him; for the sum was evidently large, and it was feared that it might offer temptations to some patient in case the moment of his death should be unobserved. At length the hour arrived, and, when death had apparently claimed him, a nurse gently unfastened the string and removed the bag. At the same moment the old man opened his eyes and felt instinctively for his treasure, which was no longer in its place. He uttered the word 'Gone!' and died. The money, which was found to amount to £171, was handed over to the hospital authorities.

A RUSSIAN BALL ROOM. The dancing was carried on with a vigor we are hardly accustomed to in London ball rooms. In the third figure of the quadrille, for instance, the gentleman joined hands in a circle, and danced round and round the group of ladies as fast as they could turn. There was a great deal, too, of shouting to mark the time, and the dances were very long to look at; what they must be to the performer is a question I cannot hope to answer. The cotillion, I am certain lasted for an hour, and most of those who took part in it never sat down above a minute or two at a time. In that most republican of dances the whole party is mixed together. The Prince of Wales must have waltzed, I think, in turn with nearly every lady in the large circle seated round the space where the cotillion was performed. The Crown Prince of Denmark could not keep up with His Royal Highness and gave in before the dance was over. The Princess Dagmar was indefatigable, and, as it struck me, waltzed better and longer than any other lady in the room.

It is no very high compliment to her to say that she was also the prettiest woman there. The heavy diamond chaplet was replaced to great advantage by a wreath of roses. She wore—so a lady told me—a white tulle dress with a rich green silk peli-se half covering her shoulders; round her neck was a triple diamond necklace of great size and weight. She was apparently in high spirits, and, with her cheeks flushed by dancing, she had a freshness of look very rare in Russia. I should think it would be difficult in any other country to collect in one room so many ladies of high rank and fortune, so few of whom had any pretensions to beauty. I have no wish to be unjust in my criticism, and I admit there were also very few to whom the word ugly could be fairly applied. Good figures were not uncommon, but of beauty, such as you see in any gathering of English ladies, there was absolutely none. The lower part of the face is always the weak point in these Russian countenances.

A DRUNKEN ACROBAT. In San Francisco, on the 18th ult., Miss Rosa Celeste the well known funabulist, or rope walker, was advertised to wheel a barrow with a man named Kennovan (the pedestrian) in it, along a cable stretched from a high platform to the top of the pavilion. It appears that when the time came for performing the feat, it was found that Kennovan was mistrustful of Miss Celeste's ability to wheel him across in safety, and had been nerving himself with liquor. Miss Celeste declined to undertake the feat with a timid man; but the audience, misconstruing her action, jeered her for her want of courage. She was stung into the imprudence of attempting it. Before Miss Celeste had gone ten feet from the platform, and when she was twenty-two feet from the ground, her companion in the barrow changed his position. By the aid of the balancing pole she had nearly recovered the shock to her equilibrium, and again essayed to go on, when the foolish man moved a second time, and Celeste, Kennovan and the barrow came to the earth. Kennovan was undermost, and, besides bruises from the fall, he was terribly mangled by the iron work on the barrow, which tore his ear from the socket, and lacerated the muscles of his neck. Celeste hung to the pole, and one end of it striking the ground, broke her fall before it snapped, and she struck on her elbow, breaking it and her shoulder bone, but saving her head, and thus escaping instantaneous death. There are doubts respecting the fate of both, as the medical attendants cannot tell what internal injuries have been received.

President Lincoln used to tell this story of himself. He was riding one day on the stage in Illinois, when the driver asked him to treat.

'I never use liquor' was Mr. Lincoln's reply, 'and I cannot induce others to do so.'

'Don't chew, neither?'

'No, sir.'

'Nor smoke?'

'No, sir; I never use tobacco in any form.'

'Well,' replied the disgusted Jehu, 'I hain't much opinion of you fellers with no small vices; I've allers noticed they make up in big ones.'

—Mr. Joseph Cobb, aged 95, was one of the skaters on the Muskingum River, at Zanesville, Ohio, Jan. 3.

Our Augusta Correspondence.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 10.

Editor of Daily Whig:

The joint standing committees of the two Houses, announced on Monday, appear to give general satisfaction, although the friends of Hon. Josiah Crosby, of the Senate, express disappointment that he was not made chairman of the Judiciary committee. His ability as a lawyer, and his long career in years past in that committee, did seem to indicate him, very properly, for that position.

Bangor has the chairmanship of some of the most important committees—Finance, Banks and Banking, Military Affairs, State Lands and State Roads; and is represented in the Judiciary, and Railroads, Ways and Bridges.

The county of Penobscot is ably represented in this Legislature. The members from the country towns, I think, are men of more than ordinary ability and experience in matters of legislation. Several of them have heretofore seen service in both branches of the Legislature. The delegation has thus far worked together in perfect harmony. It was permanently organized, on the first day of the session, with Gen. Hersey as Chairman, and Col. Hutchings as Secretary.

The bill to authorize the city of Augusta to donate $250,000 to aid in improving the water power of Augusta, has been reported from the Judiciary committee. Grave doubts exist in the best legal minds of the Legislature, as to the power of the Legislature to grant authority to a town to expend money for such purposes. There is nothing in the Constitution of the State upon which to base such legislation, except that those quasi corporations—towns, are recognized in that instrument, and the question for the courts will be whether such a donation is clearly an expenditure for the public use. Probably it is within the province of the Legislature to declare that a certain expenditure is for the public use, and the courts would accept such a declaration as final. The Augusta bill was modified, therefore, so as to embrace in it such a declaration, and, in that shape, it will undoubtedly become a law.

The people of Chelsea have sent in a remonstrance against the cession to the United States of the jurisdiction over the "Togus Farm," lately purchased for the purposes of a Military Assylum, because it will deprive the town of so much taxable property. Before Mr. Beal sunk $200,000 in the improvement of the Togus property, the swamp lands, about 700 acres, were worth about $75. The establishment of such an Asylum as is contemplated, will be worth more to the town of Chelsea than all its present taxable property.

Governor Chamberlain has taken up the reins of government with evident confidence in himself, as one conscious of his ability to execute his office. He appears as much at home as Chief Magistrate of the State, as when at the head of his Division. That his civil administration will prove but a counterpart of his military success, he has already given abundant proof.

Gen. Grant was expected to be present at the Governor's inauguration, but he had just returned from his Missouri trip, and his health was so poor he was compelled to give up his intended visit.

The salary of the Governor, it is believed, will be raised to $3000, and I notice quite a general disposition among members to increase the pay of legislators, but not to apply to the present Legislature.

The Military committee have voted to visit Bangor next Wednesday, to inspect the State Arsenal—its vast stores of arms and ammunition. By law it is made the imperative duty of the Military committee to visit the State Arsenals once a year.

OBSERVER.

A MELANCHOLY FARCE. President Johnson, who during the war was the object of unceasing scurrility from northern copperheads, dined the other night in a company containing some of the shining lights of the copperhead politicians.

He was received and welcomed to the dining hall by Tom. Florence, who during the war edited the Washington Constitution, a journal which followed faithfully in the path of the New York Daily News.

The toast to the Supreme Court was acknowledged by Jeremiah Black of Pennsylvania, Buchanan's Attorney General and confidential adviser, a violent and notorious copperhead, as everybody knows.

The toast to the army and navy called up Mr. A. J. Rogers, of New Jersey, who omitted to tell the company how much he had done to discourage enlistments during the war.

The New York Post thinks that if these men, whom Mr. Johnson now selects as his dinner table associates, had had their way during the war, Mr. Johnson would never have escaped alive out of Tennessee, but the rebellion would have triumphed, and the Union would have been destroyed. It seems to us a shameful spectacle to see the President of the United States publicly associating with men whose wishes and efforts were, during the war, for the success of Jeff. Davis and the destruction of our country.

A DELEGATION FROM NORTH CAROLINA. The Southern people are determined to be represented in Washington, if not in Congress, and delegations are continually arriving from the excluded States. The last was a delegation from North Carolina, appointed by the Governor in obedience to the joint resolution of the General Assembly, consisting of Hon. Bedford Brown, formerly United States Senator; General Leach, Hon. John A. Gilman, formerly member of Congress; Judge Merriam and P. H. Winston. The primary object of this mission is to investigate the alleged irregular and offensive collection of United States taxes for 1861.—They have, however, confided to their case the general interest of the State. Liberal provision has been made for the delegation by the State, and they will remain as long as the interests of the State demand their presence.

We have now in full the speech made by Gen. Dix on presenting his credentials, and the reply of the French Emperor. Both speeches are remarkable for their silence on the Mexican question, and on the unpleasant correspondence which has recently taken place between the two Governments concerning the evacuation of Mexico. The French Government even goes so far in ignoring this correspondence that the Moniteur denies that the Government has (officially) received the famous dispatch of Mr. Seward of Nov. 23. The French people are discussing the meaning of this official announcement.—[Tribune.

The State of Kentucky has rejected the Constitutional amendment by a decisive vote. She may possibly go farther and fare worse.

On the 27th of February all the routes in the Southern States for carrying the mails are to be let. The law is explicit that no man shall be a contractor who cannot take the oath that he has never borne arms against his country. Bryan Tyson, who advertises himself as a "National Union man, alike opposed to the heresies of the extremists North and South", has sent his advertisement all over the South that he can take that oath, and for 5 per cent. will put the contracts awarded him into the hands of those rebels whom it is the intention of the law to exclude. He has already secured 26 routes in eight different States, and transferred them all to rebels.

Brevet Brigadier-General Walter Harriman, who was on Tuesday nominated for Governor of New Hampshire by the Republican State Convention, was formerly an active and leading Democrat. On the breaking out of the war, however, he came out manfully in its support, and for a time edited the Manchester Union Democrat, then a staunch war-democratic paper. He was subsequently commissioned Colonel of the Eleventh New Hampshire, was taken prisoner at the battle of the Wilderness, and was one of the fifty officers placed in that part of Charleston which was under the Union guns. General Harriman's greatest power is on the stump, where he is hardly excelled by any man in New England. His services in this work were formerly of great value to the Democrats, and have been warmly appreciated by the Republicans since he has acted with that party.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. We find in the London Observer the following reports Cable receipts:—"The receipts from the working of the Atlantic telegraph up to the present time have averaged £813 per day, including Sundays and forty days of stoppage of the land lines. Since Nov. 1st, however, when the price of the message was reduced from £20 to £10, the average receipts have been £874, or at the rate of £205,133 per year."

A stockholder writes to the London Times: "Both of the cables are, I am assured, in excellent working order, and the present business does not occupy in transmission more than four hours per day, and that upon one cable only."

To Returned Soldiers and Others.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.

Soldiers and Friends of Soldiers:

This roll, like the preceding, contains only the names of persons whose friends have written to me for information, and of whom, up to this date, I have learned nothing definite.

Please examine it, and if you know what became of any one here named, or have facts of interest to his friends, communicate them to me by letter, with your address in full. The information will be forwarded to the friends inquiring.

If any one sees his own name, or that of a comrade known to be living, he will please inform me.

I have to thank friends everywhere, and especially returning soldiers, for the large amount of information sent me.

Compliment to a Business Man.

The Gospel Banner publishes the following complimentary notice of Hon. John B. Brown of Portland, who is not only a man of great wealth but also a man of great public spirit and liberality. Although quite long, we copy it entire, believing it to be well deserved:—

There is no man in Maine, perhaps, of greater business ability than J. B. Brown, Esq., merchant, of Portland. He was born, if we mistake not, in Oxford county, and commenced operations for himself, a poor boy and in a most humble way, some forty years ago. He is now unquestionably the richest man in Maine, estimated by some to be worth between three and four millions of dollars. By the great fire in Portland in July last, many buildings belonging to him were destroyed. With the double purpose of showing the business capacity and ability of Mr. Brown, and affording our readers an idea of what has been done in Portland in the way of rebuilding since the fire, we present what this one man has accomplished.

While the fire was yet raging, he telegraphed to B. F. Beals, Esq., of Norway, his old muster-builder, to come to Portland, and the next day commenced clearing away the debris, and has since erected

1. A sugar manufactory nine stories high, which, together with its appendages, required 3,000,000 of brick and 3,000,000 feet of lumber. The floors of this building make an aggregate of more than four acres. In this building are 12 steam boilers, for boiling the syrup, for motive power and also for warming purposes, each of which is 30 feet in length. There are also three stationary engines. The building contains 60,000 wrought iron pots for straining the syrup, holding each 14 gallons. Three thousand tons of coal will be required annually to run the manufactory.

2. Since the middle of October Mr Brown has also built a wharf which he has named "Merchants' Wharf," 800 feet long by 70 feet wide, 300 feet of which is solid work and 500 feet is built on piles.

3. On this wharf he has erected a warehouse 406 feet long by 50 wide, and two stories high. All of which is finished and under rent and the whole accomplished, let it be remembered, since the middle of October last.

4. Since the fire, July 4th, he has also erected and remodeled 23 stores on Congress, Middle, Free, Centre, corner of Brown and Congress, York and other streets, many of which are first class and most elegant, and nearly all of which are finished and under rent. And besides all this, Mr. Brown has laid the foundation of 10 more stores which he designs to erect in the spring. The cost of all these buildings is no small amount as our readers may judge by a single item. We stated above that the sugar house required 60,000 wrought iron pots. These cost $3.00 each, amounting to $180,000 in the aggregate. This is enormous for a single item, and the facts we give will not be questioned when we say they come to us, not from any doubtful authority or through any second hand channel, but from the lips of those best qualified to know.

This writing is not designed as merely a complimentary notice of Mr. Brown, but to speak of him as a business man and relate something of what he is doing towards rebuilding Portland. Still we cannot close what we have to say without an expression of warm approbation of the man. He is one of Portland's noblest and most enterprising citizens. In giving work under the most generous compensation, to the hundreds of laborers in his employ, he encourages industry, scatters abroad his ample means, and carries blessings to all who share them. And besides, he is a noble patron of every benevolent cause and worthy enterprise.—Long may he live to enjoy the fruits of his efforts and to bless his fellow men, his city and his State.

Items in General.

At Oxford, some twenty years ago, a tutor of one of the colleges limped in his walk. Stopping one day last summer at a railway station, he was accosted by a well-known politician, who recognized him, and asked if he was not the chaplain of the college at such a time, naming the year. The doctor replied that he was. "I was there," said his interrogator, "and I knew you by your limp." "Well," said the doctor, "it seems my limping made a deeper impression on you than my preaching." "Ah, doctor," was the reply, with ready wit, "it is the highest compliment we can pay a minister to say that he is known by his walk rather than by his conversation."

The Colorado Times learns from private sources that orders have been received at the Land Office in Denver, to hold all lands on Smoky Hill route for the Union Pacific Railway, Eastern Division, subject to the provisions of the act which grants twenty miles on either side of the road. The route selected by the company is up the Smoky Hill and across the Denver, thence northward to the head of Lodge Pole Creek.

The Cincinnati Gazette says that rents in that city remain very high. Houses that before the war rented for eight and ten dollars per month cannot now be had for less than twenty-five or thirty-five. A single room cannot now be touched for less than ten or fifteen, and sometimes even twenty dollars per month. At present a common house, containing six or seven rooms, in a central location, will command from fifty to twenty-five dollars a month.

The Senators and Representatives elect from Texas have issued an address to the Congress and people of the United States. They state that the great body of the Texan people are loyal to the government and earnestly desire reconciliation. They say that Texas has not adopted the Constitutional Amendment, because she believed its provisions prejudicial to her best interests and dangerous to the public good.

Rev. Moses Cummings, who died in St. Mark's place, New York, on Sunday evening, was a prominent clergyman of the denomination known as "Christians." He began his ministry when he was eighteen years of age; afterwards had editorial charge of the denominational organs, the Christian Messenger and the Palladium. He was born in Haverhill, N. H., in 1816.

The Helena (Montana) Herald of the 13th of December, just received, gives an extended account of the distribution of annuities to the Indians of Fort Benton, in which it said that powder and shot were given them, and that traders were permitted to sell these articles to them. This was done in opposition to the published protests of the citizens.

Rev. James Freeman Clarke, in a recent lecture, said he wondered why young ladies indulged in Italian screams and German moans, under the pretence of singing, and why they did not sing some of the beautiful melodies which abound in our language; a sentiment which met with the hearty assent of the audience.

In a communication by a reverend gentleman to the Cincinnati Gazette on Ritualism "burning a little frankincense," was printed "burning a little from kerosene." The gentleman complains that they have thus made light of a serious matter.

A meeting of the loyal Floridians was held at Fernandina recently, to discuss the situation of matters in Florida. They adopted resolutions expressing their desire for Congress to abolish the present State government of Florida and establish a Territorial government.

John F. Gibson, conductor on the Boston & Worcester line, has been indicted for neglect of duty in causing the death of a passenger by starting his train before ascertaining that his passengers were on board.

It is said that the only fifteen men in Kentucky who are not running for Governor are the fifteen who are up for Lieutenant Governor.

The Galveston Bulletin says that Texas must "come down to brass tacks" and accept the constitutional amendment, unless the people wish Congress to proceed with reconstruction.

The Houston Telegraph celebrated Christmas with a hogshead of egg-nogg. It was partaken of by editors, compositors, carriers, devil and all.

Vessels of all sorts which were put under the British flag or sold abroad during the war numbered one hundred and nine. During five years 1061 American vessels were thus transferred.

—Charleston, S. C., is to have an evening free school. The whole appropriation for common schools by the State for the past year was $25,000.

The claims of Charles Sumner for the next Presidency are advocated by the Newburyport (Mass.) Herald and New Bedford Standard.

Gen. Early has written a "memoir of the last year of the war." It is of course written in a running style.

AN AGGRAVATED CASE. A man named Miller removed from New York State a few years ago, to South Carolina, where he married. Upon the outbreak of the war he was forced into the rebel ranks, though still a thorough Unionist. When Sherman appeared in that State he escaped from the insurgent lines, and, reaching the General's camp, imparted very valuable information to him. When our army reached the sea Miller came to New York. He remained there till the war closed, and then returned to South Carolina. Thereupon the civil authorities arrested him, and, after being tried, he was sentenced to be hanged. The principal charge against him was that he had given information to Sherman, which led to the capture of property belonging to his brother-in-law. He is now in confinement, waiting the execution of his sentence. The attention of the Government, however, has been directed to his case, and his friends are confident that the necessary steps will be taken for his release.

Dr. Schenck on Dyspepsia.
SYMPTOMS, CAUSES AND REMEDY.
Symptoms of Dyspepsia — A sense of fullness, tightness, and weight in the stomach, together with flatulency, acidity, sour, offensive belching of wind, water-brash and vomiting, and a great deal of what a person calls an all-gone feeling at the pit of the stomach; frequently there is also a palpitation of the heart, which physicians mistake for heart disease, and when the stomach is in this condition it is coated with a mucus or slime. The rough fibrous portions of the stomach, similar to what we see in tripe, is what throws out the gastric juice, and when the stomach gets a thick coat of slime on it, it prevents the gastric juice from flowing, and digestion ceases. Schenck's seaweed tonic dissolves this mucus or slime, and restores the stomach to its natural condition.
Schenck's Mandrake Pills are also required to carry off this morbid matter. Two-thirds of the cases of Consumption are caused from this diseased state of the stomach; the liver becoming torpid, it ceases to throw out bile, and in a short time the whole system is deranged. The mucous membrance of the bronchial tubes sympathizes with the other organs, and before the patient is aware of it, he or she has Bronchial or Pulmonary Consumption.
Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup cannot act freely thro' the blood when the system is in this locked-up condition, without the aid of the Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills. The Liver has all of the venous blood to strain, and when it gets in a morbid condition, blood and bile run through the system mixed, and the whole body becomes so low, and the blood so thick it can hardly run through the veins. In a majority of cases hemorrhages occur from the thick condition of the blood. The Mandrake Pills act on the Liver similar to calomel, or they do what that does—it unlocks the gall bladders, starts the bile, and the blood begins to circulate naturally through the veins, and the hemorrhages cease. It, when persons are attacked with hemorrhage, they would first take a good purgative, something that would not on the liver, they would soon be relieved from bleeding from the lungs, and it is the only way, for astringents are only temporary, and irritate the bronchial tubes, and lay the groundwork for consumption.
DR. SCHENCK will be professionally at his rooms every week, 32 Bond Street, New York, and 35 Hanover Street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer the charge is $5.
His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers. Also a full supply at all times at his rooms.
Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

Seasonable Suggestions.
Winter, in this climate, is a trying Season. Its unsteady temperature greatly aggravates dyspepsia, and acts very unfavorably upon that sensitive organ, the liver. The alternation of frost and thaw keeps the pores of the body continually opening and contracting, and the result is a condition of the system favorable to the action of the atmospheric virus which produces intermittent fevers. Hence a PROTECTIVE MEDICINE like HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is especially needed in the winter months. The effect of this great CONSTITUTIONAL INVIGORANT, in rendering even the feeblest frame impervious to all malarious influences, is a grand fact demonstrated by the uniform experience of a quarter of a century. As a stomachic, an anti-bilious medicine, and a preventive and cure of Fever and Ague, it is the ONE THING NEEDFUL, which none who value the preservation of health can afford to do without.
THE SICK, WHEN AT DEATH'S DOOR, regret that they did not take the right antidote at the right time. Thousands who are now suffering from the early twinges of liver complaint and dyspepsia, will be prostrate on sick-beds a month hence, if they do not arrest the mischief at once.—Nothing is more easy. A course of the purest and best vegetable tonic and alterative known in modern pharmacy—HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS—will restore the digestive organs to their full vigor, and bring the disordered liver into a condition of perfect health, as certainly as sunshine dissipates the morning vapors. Fever and Ague, too, is at once broken up by this powerful antidote to all miasmatic diseases. Strengthen the system with the BITTERS, and you may defy all the complaints which prevail at this inclement season. jan 3 sn 3tawd &w2w

Dr. Tebbet's Physiological Hair Regenerator
The wonderful popularity of this Preparation is unprecedented. It is becoming the standard article over everything of the kind, and is the only unobjectionable hair preparation in use.
It positively restores white, gray and faded hair.
It prevents hair from falling off, and often Reproduces a new growth on bald heads.
Is free from all disagreeable odor.
It does not soil the finest fabric or skin.
Frees the head from humor and dandruff.
Has no equal as a dressing.
Without it no toilet is complete.

BOSTON, Dec. 6, 1866.
Messrs. Speery & Washburn,
General Agents, Hartford Live Stock Insurance Co., 96 Washington street, Boston.
Gentlemen:—I have to acknowledge the receipt of your check for FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS, being in payment for LOSS BY DEATH of my mare, Lady Mace. Said mare was insured in the HARTFORD LIVE STOCK INSURANCE CO., (in connection with my other stock), through your Agency on the 26th day of November, and on the 5th day of December following she accidentally received a kick from another horse, breaking her left fore leg above the knee, rendering it necessary to kill her, as an act of humanity.
Your PROMPT PAYMENT of the loss, without any discount, the day after her death, only confirms my previous confidence in the Company, and I cheerfully recommend all OWNERS OF LIVE STOCK to INSURE THEREIN, as my experience convinces me that it is just the thing wanted to protect them from loss by death from either accident or disease. Very truly yours,
DENNIS F. FLAGG,

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 11.

[illegible] letter from Gen. Beaure[gard] [illegible] yesterday:

New Orleans, Jan. 10, 1867.

[illegible] C. King, Esq., editor of the New [Orleans] Times—

[illegible] paper this morning you publish, from the New York Herald con[illegible] remarks relative to a speech I [illegible] to have made at Canton, Miss., [illegible] excursionists lately in [illegible]

[illegible] is in error. I made no speech [illegible] elsewhere to those excursionists [illegible] with them freely, and openly [illegible] the South had fought the [illegible] rately because it was defend[ing] [illegible] received to be its constitution[al] [illegible] having appealed to the arbi[trament] [illegible] decided to the decision [illegible] given against it; that I believed [illegible] the South were now willing [illegible] the Constitution as made by war [illegible] understood by the Supreme Court of [the Unit]ed States.

[I said] also, in my opinion, that the ques[tions of] secession and slavery were forever [settled, a]nd so far as I was concerned, under [no circu]mstances would I countenance any [attempt to] revive them; that we must now di[rect our] energies and our vitality to repairing [the rava]ges of war and restoring to our [people so]me of those comforts and that pros[perity w]hich they formerly enjoyed.

[In ans]wer to questions of some of the ex[cursioni]sts, if I thought the South would [accept a] constitutional amendment, I re[plied th]at, eschewing politics and attending [to my] private business and the duties of [my posi]tion, I had little opportunity except [through] news papers to ascertain public sen[timent o]n the subject, but if they desired to [have m]y individual opinion, I would say [that the] South would not and should not ac[cept an]y amendments, even if presented [[illegible]] lity for its interests and manhood [[illegible]] that we well know that we are [at the] mercy of the north, but that the [South c]ould never do any thing which its [people c]ould not approve to protect its inter[ests; that] I believed would remain passive [[illegible]] of the struggle going on at the [[illegible]] lying on the sober second thought [[illegible]] of justice of both parties to pro[[illegible]]

[I also sai]d that at the fall of the confederacy [I thought] of going to a foreign country to [[illegible]] allegiance to its government, I pre[ferred re]maining in my own and swearing [allegian]ce to what I conceive to be its new [governme]nt.

[In my co]nversation with the excursionists I [used the] words "consolidated government" [in spe]aking of the U. S. government. I [meant o]f course a common federal national [governm]ent, operating under the constitu[tion as i]nterpreted by the Supreme Court of [the Uni]ted States.

[I re]main yours very respectfully,
[(Sig]ned) J. T. BEAUREGARD.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.

The money market continued stringent and active up to 2 o'clock today, but after that time an easier feeling prevailed.

Gold was strong towards the close and rallied to 134¼. Short interest is very large.

Foreign exchange firm and more active.

Governments were all higher this afternoon with increased demand, due to the rise in gold.

There was an increased activity in the stock market towards the close. The activity and excitement in mining shares today surpassed anything since the present speculation set in. Business was heavy with a marked improvement in prices.

James Farnham of Williamsburg shot himself this morning. No cause was assigned.

The Herald's New Orleans despatch of today says—

There has been no serious interruption of trade between Matamoras and points in the interior.

Cortinas arrived in front of Matamoras on the 7th inst., and it is expected he would attack it at once.

The occupation of Guadalajara and Agnos Calientas is confirmed.

Gen. Sedgwick is still at Brownsville and justifies his recent action by orders and private letters.

Coahuilla will proceed to the interior with the necessary wagons and transportation for 10,000 men who have been pressed into the service.

BOSTON, Jan. 11.

Martin Kelley of Lynn, a boy 15 years of age, committed suicide last night by hanging himself in the Ipswich House of Correction.

It is announced that if Boston will raise $20,000, Dr S G Howe will go to Greece without charge to see to its faithful distribution.

In the Legislature today the House Judiciary Committee was directed to consider the expediency of abolishing the reading and writing qualification for voters.

The report of the Commissioners on the hours of labor was presented.

Two of the Commissioners are of the opinion that no legislation is expedient or necessary on the subject. The third Commissioner reports in favor of the enactment of ten hours as a legal standard for a day's labor in the business contracts of factories and farms, and a similar enactment of eight hours as a legal standard in the business and contracts for mechanical labor.

Gov. Bullock sent in a letter received by him from Gov. Orr of South Carolina, which contained the following passage:

"I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication, enclosing a copy of the resolutions of the State of Massachusetts, directing certain books to be provided and sent to this State in response to my application to you. This action of the Legislature of your State is gratefully appreciated by South Carolina, and is an augury that the ancient fraternal relations between these two original States of the Union are being restored. Widely as we have differed in the principles of the government in the past, let the acerbities of those differences be buried, and the future only unfold a generous rivalry in advancing the interests and promoting the glory of a common country."

DETROIT, Jan. 11.

In the Legislature today a resolution thanking Congress for its prompt action in passing the Free Suffrage bill over the President's veto was adopted.

A resolution favoring the impeachment of the President was adopted.

The health of Gov. Crapo is slowly improving.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.

A telegram dated Victoria 9th inst., says that schr Gazelle, from the North-west coast, bringing two Hawaiian sailors from barque Mamakeo, lost on the 25th of the same month, near Koskemo Sound. The second mate was lost overboard, and a seaman was drowned. The barque was thrown on her beam-ends while off Cape Flattery, when the main and mizzen masts were cut away; the vessel righted, and being water-logged, floated helplessly for 15 days. The persons on board suffered dreadful privations. The vessel went ashore at Koskemo Sound, and broke up immediately. All on board landed by aid of a raft, and were made prisoners by the Indians and reduced to a state of slavery. After forty days' captivity two men succeeded in escaping to the Hudson's Bay Co.'s station at Fort Rupert, where a passage was furnished them to Victoria. Messengers have been despatched to Koskemo demanding the release of the captives.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 11.

Several hundred freedmen emigrants from the interior of the State have sailed for Florida.

TOPEKA, Ka., Jan. 11.

The House resolution ratifying the constitutional amendment was concurred in by the Senate to-day unanimously without discussion.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 11.

At a caucus of the Union members of the Legislature, held this evening, Gov. Morton was unanimously nominated for United States Senator.

Gov. Morton's message is mainly devoted to State affairs. It treats of the constitutional amendment in detail, and says he establishes the great principle of national unity and citizenship.

CARSON CITY, Jan. 11.

Gov. Blaesdell sent in his first message to-day with reports from various State officers. It shows that the State debt is $228,-000.

The Legislature has not fairly got to work yet. A resolution has been passed that the vote be taken for U. S. Senator on Tuesday next.

Thirty-Ninth Congress.

SECOND SESSION.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.

Senate.

Mr Sumner presented a petition of loyal citizens of Arkansas for the overthrow of the present State Government and reorganization by Congress. Referred to the committee on Reconstruction.

Mr Wade from the Committee on Territories reported back favorably the bill to provide a surveyor and other officers of Idaho.

The House bill to enforce the 18th amendment to the Constitution, was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The House bill to provide a New York Post Office, was referred to the Post Office and Post Roads Committee.

Mr Van Winkle offered an amendment that all civil officers shall be appointed for four years, unless a different tenure is prescribed by law. Disagreed to.

Mr Hendricks moved to strike out that part of the third section which provides, if no appointment by the consent of the Senate, shall be made to fill a vacancy, such office shall remain in abeyance until an appointment shall be made by and with the consent of the Senate.

Mr Howard opposed, and Mr. Hendricks followed in a speech, explaining.

The Senate amendment of Mr. Hendricks was debated at length by various Senators, until 5:30 p. m., when the Senate adjourned until Monday.

House.

Mr Hubbard of Conn., asked leave to offer a resolution to appoint a committee of inquiry into the alleged inefficiency of heavy rifled ordnance in the Navy.

Mr Cobb objected.

The Post Office committee were instructed to inquire into the expediency of having ocean mail service between San Francisco and Astoria and Portland, Oregon.

Mr Ashley of Ohio, reported from the Committee on Territories a substitute for the North Carolina Reconstruction bill. Ordered to be printed and recommitted.

The Speaker presented several Executive communications, which were appropriately referred.

The House then went into a private calender, Mr. Broomall in the chair.

Pending the consideration of the above the morning hour expired, and the bill to regulate the tenure of office was taken up.

The amendment proposed by Mr. Howard requiring the person appointed to give bonds on taking the oath, was adopted.

Mr Edmunds, offered several additional sections as amendments, prescribing punishments for appointing to or accepting any office after rejection by the Senate. After explanation the amendment was adopted.

Mr Washburne, from the committee on rules, reported an amendment to the 51st rule, by striking out all that part of it which provides for the care of committees for bills on alternate Mondays. Adopted.

Also to amend rule 130, by providing that States and Territories shall be called during the morning hour, on each Monday, for bills to be referred without debate. Adopted.

Also a rule for the establishment of a joint committee on public buildings and grounds, to consist of five members from the Senate and seven from the House. Adopted.

Mr Raymond. from the same committee, reported a rule placing reporters of the Associated Press under the same rules and regulations as those of the Globe. Adopted.

The House went into committee of the whole on the Legislative Appropriation bill. Mr Lawrence of Pa., in the chair.

The appropriation for the Agricultural Department being reached, a general discussion sprung up on the merits and demerits of the head of the Agricultural Department.—The discussion was participated in by Messrs Delano, Morrill, Bidwell, Bergen, Bromwell, Hill, Ingersoll, Le Blond, Schenck, Trowbridge, Ross, Wentworth, and Lawrence of Pa. The latter made an animated defense of the Commission.

Without coming to a conclusion the committee rose.

Mr Washburne of Ill., suggested that tomorrow be set apart for debate.

Mr Kasson represented the necessity of attending closely to business for the rest of the session, and Mr Washburne withdrew his suggestion.

Mr Raymond presented a petition of a large number of persons engaged in the business of dressing furs in the State of New York, praying for an increase of duty on fur skins, dressed or partly dressed, from abroad; also, a similar petition from dressers of fur skins in the State of Massachusetts; also, a similar petition from dressers of fur skins in Philadelphia. Referred to committee on ways and means.

Mr Ketchum presented a petition of H Bronson, late sergeant-major of the 37th regiment, U S A, for equalization of bounties to soldiers who served in the War of 1812.

Mr Warner presented the petition of B G Warner and others, manufactures of cigars, praying for a change of ad valorem to specific tax on imported cigars. Referred to the committee on ways and means.

A petition of Charles Parker for the release of manufacturers of hardware from the internal revenue tax was referred to the committee on ways and means.

A petition of Benj. Douglass and others for a can-buoy and spar-buoy at the mouth of the Connecticut river was referred to the committee on commerce.

The House at four o'clock adjourned.

Reported for the Daily Whig.

Maine Legislature.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 11, 1867.

SENATE.

Mr Perkins offered the following order:

Ordered, That the committee on Printing and Binding ascertain and report to the Legislature why the printing of the Adjutant General's Report is delayed, and when it will be completed, and report when the binders will complete the binding and delivery of the same, and that for the coming year they inquire into the expediency of contracting for a portion or all of the printing and binding with some other parties and report forthwith.

Order appointing a joint select committee to consider the propriety of increasing the salary of the Governor was passed in concurrence, and Senators Hersey, Fairbanks, Eaton, Mason, Robie, Perkins and Parks were appointed on the part of the Senate.

Passed to be enacted—An act concerning specie payments.

Mr Porter from the committee on Governor's Address reported reference of its various subjects to Standing Committees, excepting those relating to internal improvements and the future of Maine, which was referred to a select committee. Accepted.

Same Senator, from the committee on interior waters, reported bill an act additional to an act entitled an act to incorporate the Mattawamkeag Log Driving Company.—Read and assigned.

Mr Dyer, from the committee on interior waters, reported leave to withdraw on petition for incorporation of a company to supply Bangor with water.

Mr Hobson moved a reconsideration of the vote of yesterday passing in concurrence an order referring the matter of the State assuming the war debts of towns to the Judiciary committee. Carried. The order was laid on the table.

Ordered, That the committee on education be directed to inquire into the expediency of establishing by law the number of days for a month which the teachers of common schools shall be required to teach, so that uniformity may exist throughout the State.

Ordered, That the committee on education be instructed to inquire into the expediency of prohibiting by law whipping in our common schools.

Mr Wingate presented the petition of Henry L Nash and 59 others for assumption of town debts by the State.

On motion of Mr Hobson the petition was laid on the table.

Mr Holbrook presented the petition of C W Mann and others for amendment of the Porgy Law. Referred.

Mr Crosby presented the petition of Jos. Chase an others for incorporation of the Newport Manufacturing Company, bill accompanying.

Mr Holbrook from the committee on the Treasurer's accounts, made the following report:

They have examined the books and accounts in the Treasurer's office, and find them correctly cast and properly vouched, and that they agree with the balance sheet exhibited to the Legislature, and that the amount of cash on hand Dec. 31, 1866, was $232,192 49, of which $167,271 10 was deposited in the banks of this State and Suffolk Bank, Boston, as per schedule annexed, as appears by the returns of their respective cashiers, and the sum of $64,921 49 we found cash in hand.

Acting by authority of a resolve of Jan. 24, 1863, they destroyed by borrowing bonds and coupons paid by the Treasurer during the year 1866, and of bonds $37,000, being bonds No, 4 for $25,000 issued to the State of Massachusetts under resolve of Sept. 28th, 1866; No. 70 and 71 each for $3000, and Nos. 64 to 69 inclusive, each for $1000, issued under resolve of Jan. 16, 1865.—Amount of coupons $295,145 00 a record of which has been entered on the books of the Treasurer.

They further report that they find sundry securities deposited with the Treasurer in trust, under certain acts and resolves of this State as follows, viz—

For School District, No. 2, Madison,	$1,000 00
Trustees Bates College,	10,000 00
State Sinking Fund,	258,921 80
Union Mutual Life Ins. Co.,	100,000 00
Agricultural College Fund,	104,694 70
And income from said fund,	1,605 45

Also, for the benefit of said Agricultural College, one hundred and two pieces of land scrip, one hundred and two pieces of land scrip, of one hundred and sixty acres each.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

S. A. HOLBROOK,

HOUSE.

The following orders were passed—

Ordered, That the committee be instructed to inquire into the expediency of further legislation to provide a mode of estimating and securing damages suffered by individuals or corporations whose land is taken, and used by telegraph companies, and report by bill or otherwise.

Ordered, That the committee on fisheries be instructed to inquire into the expediency of enacting a law for the appointment of a commission to survey the rivers of the State looking to the restocking them with salmon and other fish that have driven therefrom by local causes, and report by bill or otherwise.

Ordered, That the committee on Agriculture be instructed to inquire into the expediency of so amending section six of chap. fifty-seven of the Revised Statutes as to allow an increase of the toll for cleansing, grinding and bolting certain grains.

Ordered, That the committee on the judiciary be instructed to inquire into the expediency of so changing the law in relation to mortgages of personal property, that the recording of a mortgage made to secure the payment of thirty dollars or less by the clerk of the town where the mortgagor resides, shall have the same effect as a delivery of the property.

Mr Stevens, from the committee on federal relations, reported bill an act to ratify the amendment to the Constitution of the United States, proposed to the Legislatures of the several States by resolution adopted at the first session of the 39th Congress, A. D. 1866, which was on his motion read three times under a suspension of the rules, and the vote on the passage of the same was ordered to be taken by yeas and nays.

Mr Frye of Lewiston made a lengthy speech, at the conclusion of which the vote was taken on the passage of the bill to be engrossed, and resulted yeas 126, nays 12, as follows—

NAYS—Messrs. Daniel Allen; John T. Allen, Oliver Allen, Atkinson, Atwood, Beal, Berry, Bickford, Bishop, Benjamin M. Brown, David Brown, Buck, Bailey, D Barker, Barton, Bean, Blanchard, Bradford, Bucknam, Brackett, Elisha Chick, Isaiah Chick, Cilley, Seth H. Clark, Clements, Cushing, Dame, Davis, Downes, Ellis, Farmer, Farnham, Fenderson, Files, Fish, Frost, Foster, Frye, Garcelon, Gibbs, Gilman, Goold, Gordon, Grindle, Haines, Hale, Alvin Hall, Orrin Hall, William H. Hanson, Hartwell, Haskell, Henley, Hinckley, Holland, Hutchings, Hutchinson, Irish, Jones, Jowett, Jordan, Kenniston, Laing, Lapman, Leighton, Libby, Tobias Lord, McArthur, Marden, David W. Merrill, Jas. H. Merrill, John M. Merrill, Merry, Messer, Nahum P. Monroe, Morrill, Nowell, Oak, Packard, Joseph D. Parker, Paine, Thomas H. Parker, Philemon C. Parsons, Pennell, Peasley, A. Perkins, Perry, Philbrick, Pierce, Phinney, Pinkham, Plaisted, Pollard, Prescott, Purington, Richardson, Rogers, Saunders, Sawyer, Shaw, Swett, Shepley, Spear, Stevens, Stetson, Taintor, Teague, Talbot, Tukey, Thomas, Thompson, Titcomb, Tobey, Tolman, Wagg, Walton, Watson, Webster, Weed, West, Whittier, Woodman, Whidden, Wakefield, Wyman, York.—126.

YEAS—Messrs. Daniel R. Allen, Barrell, James R. Clark, Coffin, Crockett, Halsey H. Monroe, Morris, Otis, Roberts, Sterling, Tyler, Wilcox—12.

So the bill was passed to be engrossed.

Mr Barrell of York, said in explanation of his vote, that he coincided with the views of Mr Frye as much as any member in the House, but that he was not satisfied with it in that it did not provide for impartial suffrage.

On motion of Mr Oak of Carland,

Ordered, That any member of this House who has been prevented from voting on the Constitutional Amendment by reason of absence may have the privilege of voting upon such act by stating his wish to the Chair, any time before the final adjournment of this body.

Report of the Committee on Treasurer's Accounts was accepted in concurrence.

Mr Berry of Gardiner, from the Committee on Interior Waters, reported bill an act additional to incorporate the Kennebec Company. Read twice and ordered to be printed.

Bill an act authorizing the city of Augusta to expend a certain amount of money towards the purchase and improvement of the water power within its limits, and for other purposes, [House No. 1,] was read the 3d time and several verbal amendments proposed by Mr Stevens of Augusta, were adopted. The question then being on the passage of the bill to be engrossed, Mr. Stevens made a long argument in support of the principle of the bill, after which some discussion ensued and the bill was passed to be engrossed by a practically unanimous vote. Adj.

Petitions Presented and Referred.

By Mr. Rogers of Patten: Petition of Rodney C. Barker for deed of a lot of land.

For the Whig & Courier.

MACHIASPORT, Jan. 9, 1867.

Messrs Wheeler & Lynde:

As much as being said and done in many places in behalf of the cause of Temperance, it may be interesting to the friends of the good cause to know what is being done in this place, to rid it of the bane of intemperance which has prevailed here so generally for many years and cast a stigma upon the character of the whole town.

Last April an Association of Good Templars was organized under the very appropriate name, considering that many of its members are sea-faring men, of "Sheet Anchor Lodge:" and it is to be hoped that it will prove to be to the town, what the sheet anchor sometimes is to the ship, its salvation.

The Lodge now numbers 165 members.—The meetings, which are held weekly, are interesting and well attended. Scarcely a week passes but what new members are added to the Lodge.

Last week an invitation was given to the Lodge at Machias to meet with them at their regular meeting on Friday evening.—The weather was very fine indeed and there was a large gathering. There were 218 Good Templars present—a beautiful collation was provided—friendly greetings interchanged—interesting and encouraging remarks made, and a renewed impulse given to the good cause.

The "critter" has been driven from our midst, and, although it still lingers at "Old Quan's" and the "Widow Lyon's" in the outskirts of the town, it will soon die out there, unless kept alive by patrons from the adjacent towns.

The Good Templars there must see to it—"A word to the wise is sufficient." J.

The two daughters of J. H. Chamberlain, Esq., of this village came near losing their lives by suffocation on Saturday night last, from the effect of coal gas. The damper in the stove pipe got turned, probably from the draft of wind, and the gas escaped into the hall, and thence into the sleeping room of the young ladies, their door being left open. One of the sleeper awoke, vomiting badly, but rushed into the room of her parents, awakening them. The other had to be aroused, her pulse being as low as 40. The doctor was called, and he said that in a few hours their lives would have been extinct. —Ellsworth American.

—We learn that Mr. Arthur Brown, the popular Clerk at the Ellsworth House, is about leaving for a situation in the Nichols House, Bangor. Mr. Brown won golden opinions while here, as an affable and acceptable clerk, and the travelling public regret his leaving the Ellsworth House.—Ellsworth American.

The editor of the Lyndon (Vt) Union has been presented by an Illinois Democrat with a large hickory chair, as a testimonial "to a man who had the moral courage and backbone to print a Democratic paper in the Radical State of Vermont".

A hickory stick, vigorously applied, would have been more in accordance with the dictates of justice.

HOW TO MAKE A COAL FIRE BURN. If an anthracite fire has been left for hours, and has run down, nearly burnt out into ashes, and a person puts on fresh coal and rakes it clear of all dust, so as to let the draft revive it, out it goes. But if he puts on a little fresh coal and does not rake it, but just leaves it for a quarter of an hour, then it will revive, the fresh coal kindles, and after that to rake away the old dust will help to make the fire burn famously. Why this is there have been two conjectures at least. Some say that the change of arrangement of the particles destroys the fire, it being a peculiar kind of motion or life, as it were. Others think that the superior affinity of the fresh coal absorbs all of the remaining heat out of the dying cinders and ashes. It is at least clear that their too early removal before this process has been effected puts the whole fire out.

THE SKY AN INDICATOR OF THE WEATHER. The color of the sky at times affords good guidance. Not only does a rosy sunset presage good weather and a ruddy sunrise bad weather, but there are other tints that speak with equal clearness and accuracy. A bright yellow sky in the evening indicates wind; a pale yellow, wet; a neutral gray color constitutes a favorable sign in the evening, and an unfavorable one in the morning. The clouds are, again, full of meaning in themselves. If their forms are soft, undefined, full and feathery, the weather will be fine; if their edges are hard, sharp and definite, it will be foul. Generally speaking, any deep, unusual hues, betoken wind and rain, while the more quiet and delicate tints bespeak fair weather. These are simple maxims, but yet not so simple but that the British Board of Trade has thought fit to publish them for the use of sea-faring men.—[Scientific American.

COTTON PICKED BY MACHINERY. The Memphis Appeal speaks of a machine invented for picking cotton, that was used on the grounds of Dr. Thomas, of Chelsea, and says:—

"The machine is based on the wagon principle, having two wheels which move the machinery, consisting of two cylinders of brushes in the front, one at the back, and a cylinder of fine teeth in the centre, with a receptacle at the back, holding from three to four hundred pounds of cotton with the seeds as picked. The machine is made to take two rows, the animal pulling it passing between the rows, and the driver seated high above the entire works. We saw the machine work, and though we discovered it still lacked many qualities which will have to be added, we feel sure it will in time be a success, and yet crown the inventor with glory."

The original tree, of the Newtown Pippin, of wide repute, was a seedling which grew in a swamp in Newtown, Long Island, about 1700, on the estate of Girsham Moore, and the fruit was called the Girsham Moore Pippin for a long time. The tree lasted over a hundred years, and finally died from excessive cutting, it having been much resorted to for scions to graft with.

The Baldwin originated in Wilmington, near Boston, more than a century ago. It grew on the farm of Mr. Butters, in the part of the town called Somerville, and known as the Butters apple, also known as the Woodpecker's apple (the woodpeckers having perforated the tree); being disseminated by Col. Baldwin & Sons, it was called the Baldwin apple.

CANCERS CAN BE CURED

DR. L. CHASE,

(LATE OF PORTLAND).

THE CELEBRATED

INDIANOPATHY. CANCER & HUMOR DOCTOR,

HAVING purchased the residence of H. A. Wood, 54 Hammond Street, Bangor, Maine, would be happy to be consulted by all who are afflicted with Cancers, Cancer Humors, Tumors, Scrofula, Leprosy, Salt Rheum, Fits, Neuralgia, Bronchial Affections, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Sick Headache, Liver Diseases, Female Weaknesses, Piles, Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Diseases of the Kidneys, Stiff Joints, Gravel, Diabetes, &c., &c.

Dr. CHASE has practiced in his profession for sixteen years, and in that time has spent two years in Florida and Cuba, for the purpose of gaining a correct knowledge of the most efficient remedies used by the various tribes of Indians of that country, and by great expense has gained many valuable secrets which have heretofore been unknown to the world.

In Cancer he claims superiority over all other Physicians of the age, for he never fails to perform a cure when taken in a proper stage.

His mode of curing Cancers is by the application of a plaster, which is strictly vegetable, and will have no effect upon the healthy flesh; and in no case uses a knife, as does Dr. Greene, of Boston.

He also boldly asserts that he can tell every individual their disease and location of their pains, and describe their feelings in almost every case, more minutely than they can possibly themselves.

Dr. Chase is not a Clairvoyant, but conducts his examinations on a strictly scientific principle, and will challenge any professed medium for a test examination.

Office hours from 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Examinations free. Office at residence No. 54 Hammond Street.

Grand Trial of Sewing Machines,

(Between the Willcox & Gibbs and Florence.)

THE WILLCOX & GIBBS TRIUMPHANT

IT is declared the BEST MACHINE, and awarded the highest premium.

For the Willcox & Gibbs Machine THIRTY-FIVE distinct claims were made for superiority, ALL of which were fully sustained; for the Florence Machine but TEN were presented, only TWO of which were sustained. By this trial, more thorough than any of the kind ever previously attempted—a trial before an able and impartial jury, the justice of whose verdict none can dispute—it has been proved, decided and published to the world that the Willcox & Gibbs Machine is just what it has claimed to be—AN IMPROVEMENT ON DOUBLE THREAD MACHINES. It requires, we think, no prophet to foresee its accelerated progress in the future, or to foretell its ultimate triumph as the recognized

Jesus the Ladder.

Jesus! the ladder of my faith
Rests on the jasper walls of Heaven!
And through the veiling clouds I catch
Faint visions of the mystic Seven!

The glory of the rainbowed Throne
Illumes those clouds like lambent flame;
As once, on Earth, Thy love divine
Burned tho' the robes of human shame.

Thou art the same, O gracious Lord!
The same dear Christ that Thou wert then;
And all the praises angels sing
Delight Thee less than prayers of men!

We have no tears Thou wilt not dry;
We have no wounds Thou wilt not heal;
No sorrows pierce our human hearts
That thou, dear Saviour, dost not feel.

Thy pity, like the dew, distils;
And Thy compassion, like the light,
Our every morning overfills,
And crowns with stars our every night.

Let not the world's rude conflict drown
The charmed music of Thy voice,
That calls all weary ones to rest,
And bids all mourning souls rejoice!

COUSIN JONATHAN.

Before a bright fire, in a handsomely furnished drawing-room, two persons stood one evening—a young and very lovely girl, with merry glance and smile. She was dressed in something soft and white, that floated round her like mist; and in her nut brown hair nestled a half-blown rose.

Her companion was a man, past the prime of young manhood; and, perhaps, the first impression his appearance gave was that of awkwardness only. Short, and ungracefully, yet powerfully made, with features far from regular, it would be difficult to describe him as other than a plain man, of some five-and-forty years of age. Yet he had one charm—a voice of wonderful richness and depth; soft and gentle, too, when speaking to his fair companion.

'I hope you will enjoy it as much as you expect, Alice.'

'I hope I shall; but Cousin, why are not you going with us?'

'You will not miss me, and I have letters to write this evening. Besides what should an old fellow like me do at a ball?'

Alice turned round and gave him a saucy little look out of her brown eyes.

'What a silly thing you are, Cousin Jonathan.'

At that moment a tall, hearty looking old gentleman entered the room, evidently enjoying some joke, much to his own satisfaction. He carried a parcel in his hand.

'See, Miss Alice, here's a queer sort of a thing come for you. Can you imagine what it is? I'm sure I can't.'

She unfolded the silver paper, and brought to light an exquisite boquet of hot-house flowers.

'Oh, how lovely! how very lovely! But who can have sent them?'

She glanced at her cousin as she spoke laughing.

'Not Jonathan, I'm sure,' said her father, 'he's old enough to have more sense.'

'Did you send them?' persisted Alice moving nearer to him, and her voice faltering a little.

'I! no. Is it likely? See, here is a card in the paper.'

She took it up, and read aloud: 'With Captain Ray's compliments.'

'Very polite—very proper—very kind,' said her father rubbing his hands—'very much so indeed.'

Cousin Jonathan moved away.

Mr. Braybrook took his daughter's hand, and turning her deliberately round, examined her with great apparent satisfaction.

'Not amiss, is it Jonathan?' said he, appealing to their quiet companion.

That gentleman was reading a letter, and looking up for a moment, replied—'certainly not sir.'

He bent over the paper again, but any one near might have seen it tremble in his hand.

Alice grew very rosy, and drew up her slender figure to its full height.

'Pray papa, don't ask Mr. Waring to admire poor me; you disturb him from his letter; and besides—I—I'm sure it doesn't —I don't——'

'My opinion can be of no value, I know,' said her cousin, with another glance from his occupation.

'Never mind him, puss,' said Mr. Braybrook, as he thought he saw Alice's lip quiver: these old bachelors are always cross and ill-tempered.'

'The carriage is at the door,' cried the footman, entering very opportunely.

Mr. Braybrook left the room, and Alice's maid came in with a warm cloak of white and cherry-colored silk.

'Good night,' said the little lady. Then this charming affair was properly put on, and a black lace veil was thrown over her head.'

Mr. Waring looked up. She stood beside him, holding out a tiny white-gloved hand. He took it, saying—'Good night; I hope your first ball will be a merry one, Alice.'

The hand lingered in his.

If you were only coming, Cousin Jonathan——'

He interrupted her quickly, almost harshly.

'But I'm not, so good night.'

She went away silently, but turning at the door to say 'Good night' once more, he fancied he saw tears glistening through the shadowy black veil.

He started to his feet; but a thought seemed to strike him and he sat down to his paper again, muttering—'She'll make me make a fool of myself, whether I will or no, with that voice and those pleading eyes. Pshaw! a man at my age—ridiculous!' And on his pen went faster than ever.

Hour after hour passed on, and still he was busily at work. One—two—three o'clock struck. There was a sound of bustle in the hall below. He heard Alice's clear, ringing laugh—that laugh that was like no other. He heard Mr. Braybrook's hearty voice, and another—a voice he did not know.

They came up stairs—Alice, her father, and a tall, eligant-looking man in uniform.

'Mr. Waring, Captain Ray,' said Mr. Braybrook; and then the three began to talk over the ball, and apparently forgot the very existence of the writer at the sofa-table.

Jonathan Waring's heart grew full of bitterness. Alice glanced once toward him, saw him pale, and with compressed lip.

Her eye grew brighter, her laugh more joyous: Captain Ray thought her each moment more and more lovely.

Refreshments were brought in, and soon after the Captain took leave—not however, before he had promised to call on the morrow, and bring Alice a book. He felt quite sure she would like.

'I am sorry you sat up for us,' said Alice, as Mr. Waring was leaving the room, letters in hand; you look quite tired out.'

'Thank you, but I do not feel so.'

It must have been a lonely evening for you.'

'Not at all; I was too busy to find it other. Good-night.'

'Good-night, Cousin. How do you like Capt. Ray.'

'I think he is a very elegant man.'

'So do I: very fascinating too.'

'I can well fancy it.'

'Good-night.'

She ran up the stairs half-way then turned and ran down to him again.

'Cousin Jonathan, will you tell me if you think I looked nice to-night? Really I mean——'

'To me you look just as usual.'

'Well, many people told me I—I——'

'Looked lovely; no doubt; and as plenty of others told you so, there is all the less need for me to do it. Now, good-night. Go up stairs: you will be quite tired to-morrow if you don't.'

Alice when in her room wept bitterly.

'He sees that you care for him, and shuns you.—He wants to guard you from yourself,' whispered pride.

Some weeks had passed away since Alice's first ball. It was the height of the season; and of all the beauties fluttering nightly from one scene of gaiety to another, none was more admired, more courted than the lovely Alice Braybrook. People did say, she was a 'bit of a flirt'—and perhaps people were not far from right, certainly it seemed so. 'Legion' was the name of her lovers; and she apparently enjoyed their admiration to no small degree.

Sometimes 'that quiet Mr. Waring' was seen with herself and her father, but not often. No one took much notice of him, and he did not keep with Miss Braybrook much, unless she happened to be tiring herself with dancing too long together, or resting where there was a chilly draught; then Cousin Jonathan was sure to be near, with a kind word of warning.

One morning, as she lay buried in the cushion of a luxurious sofa, trying to read a newly-published novel, Mr. Waring came into the room, and struck with the wearied, listless expression of her face, stopped and asked if she had a headache.

'Not much, thank you. What time is it?'

'Nearly two. May I sit with you a little Alice?—I have a great deal to say to you.'

The weary look was gone in a moment? It was a unusual thing for him to ask to stay with her, and it made her color come.

He brought a chair, and sat near her, but where she could not see his face. He took up the book she had been reading.

'Who sent you this, Alice? Which of the adoring swains?'

'Did you ever hear an old song, 'Heigh-ho! heigh-ho! I'm afraid too many'——

'Hush!' cried Alice, rather pettishly; 'if you talk in that way I shall send you away.'

He took her hand, and held it in both his own—'My dear little cousin, will you take a word of advice from one who really has your good at heart?'

She neither spoke, nor yet withdrew her hand.

'You have no mother to watch over you dear Alice, and are placed in what I know must be a very trying position. I am sure you always wish to do right; but it is very hard to escape the unkind remarks of the world. You are very young, very lovely; many envy you; many censure you—'

He paused a moment and Alice hid her face upon the arm of the sofa.

'Do not think me presuming, dear Alice, in speaking thus; we are old friends—we shall always be friends, shall we not?'

Her fingers closed on his.

Remember that you have much to answer for—many responsibilities. Above all, take care that you no not make others unhappy, or trifle with affection, which, if true, is more priceless than all the wealth of the world! You know what I mean, Alice?'

'Yes.'

'Do not raise hopes unless you mean to fulfill them!'

She was sobbing in a low, subdued manner, that went to his heart.

'You are not angry with me, Alice?'

Angry with him!—If he could only read her heart!

'We old bachelors are privileged persons, you know. Nay, you must not sob in this way! I only wanted to give you a word of caution before I go.'

'Go!' cried Alice, springing to her feet—'O! are you going to leave me?'

He was not prepared for this He hardly dared trust himself to look upon her, as she stood there with clasped hands and quivering lips.

'Yes, I am going back to Lescombe; I have been here too long!' he added, half to himself—but she heard the words.

'Too long! Then you have been, dull, lonely, with us—and now you are going? O, what shall I—what shall we do, without you?'

'Nay, Alice you will hardly miss me. It is not as though I were a young man, and could be more companionable. Besides, my people at Lescombe want me; and—but, Alice, Alice, do not cry; I cannot bear it, dear child!'

That word recalled her to herself. It was better to hear it from him. Yes; he thought her a child; and she—she had dared to love him, not as a child loves, but as a woman. She had poured out her whole heart at his feet, and perhaps he knew that it was so—perhaps he scorned her for it!

She dashed the tear drops from her eyes, struggled to stay the sobs that nearly choked her, and sat down by his side.

'Tell me about Lescombe.'

Lescombe was his home—the manor house of a country village. He told her of his tenantry, and how poor some of them were; of the efforts he had made, and was making to improve their condition of the schools he had built, and the new parsonage then in progress; of how he visited among them, and tried to win their confidence and love; and, as he spoke so earnestly and truthfully of all this, his homely face to her seemed beautiful, with a higher beauty than that of mere form, and she felt, as she had often felt before, that to be his wife would be the happiest lot on earth, and one of which she was unworthy.

Mr. Waring was in reality but a distant connection of her father's; but Alice had known him since she was a little child, and the name of 'Cousin Jonathan,' given to him then, was retained in after years. She had always looked upon him as her friend, but unconsciously had learned to love him as women love but once. The very fact of his being so many years older than herself, had, for a time blinded her as to the real nature of her feelings; but when she met with that love from others, which from him she would have given all the world to possess, she knew how it was, and bitter were the pangs of wounded pride and homeless love in her young heart.

'When do you leave us?' asked Alice, as she rose to quit the room.

'To-morrow,' he replied, without looking at her.

That night they had an engagement. Alice made tea for them in the drawing-room.

'My darling, are you not well?' said Mr. Braybrooke, taking her hand in his.

Mr. Waring looked earnestly at her for a moment. A bright crimson spot burned on each check, but there was a livid circle round her eyes, and her lips were almost colorless. A strange thought came over him—a thought that made his pulse bound wildly and his hand tremble.

Could it be so? He tried to put the thought from him. He dared not dwell upon it.

The servant entered: 'Captain Ray is in the library.'

'Why did you not show him in here?' asked old Braybrook, sharply.

'He asked to see you alone, sir.'

Alice had risen and walked to the fire place, where she stood, holding the mantleshelf with both hands, but Mr. Waring had caught a glimpse of her face as she passed—it was deathly pale. Her father left the room.

There was a dead silence.

'She knew of this, hence her agitation,' thought Mr. Waring, as he covered his eyes with his hand, to shut out the sight of her from before him.

The silence continued unbroken, and he felt his self-control deserting him.

'Alice, I shall go to my room. I have letters to see to—and—I might be in the way.'

She turned to him—such a mute expression of anguish on her face that he uttered an exclamation of horror and surprise. She stretched out her hands to him, as though in wild entreaty. He sprang to her, clasping her hands like death, so cold, so lifeless.

'Alice, darling, do not look in that way; all will be well. You will be happy—you must be. God bless you and him!'

He hurried from her presence, feeling unable to bear it even a moment longer.

The morning came—the morning of a day fraught with fearful interest to Alice—the day that must part her from Mr. Waring, and decide the fate of Captain Ray, for Alice had petitioned time to think. She came down to the breakfast-room looking almost like a living statue, so calm, so pale. Mr. Baybrook was not yet down, but a figure stood in the deep bay window.

'Good morning, Cousin Jonathan.'

He started, and turned at her voice.

'I have a beautiful morning for my journey.'

'Very. What time do you go?'

'In an hour.'

'Then I must give you your breakfast.'

'You shall; but first I have a word to say to you. Nay, Alice, do not look afraid; it is no lecture this time—only to tell you how fervently I pray that the lot in life you have chosen may be a happy one.'

He had meant to be very calm, but his voice faltered, and, unknowingly, he almost crushed the delicate hands, as he held them in his own. She raised her calm, sad eyes to his face.

'And you care this much about me Cousin Jonathan?'

'Care, Alice!'

'I did not think you cared so much. I am very, very glad.'

She spoke so low, that it was almost a whisper; but suddenly clasping her hands, and holding one of his to her heart, she went on to speak vehemently, passionately—all her assumed calmness gone.

'I know that to you, so noble so good, I seem but a weak and erring child; but, do not think—oh! never think that your kindness can be by me forgotten.'

She would have spoken more, but something in his face arrested her. His voice sounded hoarse and unnatural.

'Alice, hush! You know not what you do.'

A change came over her. She dropped his hand, and with both her own pressed tightly down upon her breast, stood gazing on him with wondering eyes and parting lips, from which all shade of color had faded.

He passed his hand across his forhead, and turned from her.

'Alice, leave me!—in mercy leave me!'

But she stood as though rooted to the ground.

'Would to God I loved her less!, burst from him like a groan.

She heard it, and her lips moved, her arms were stretched out to him; one uncertain step forward, and she fell senseless at his feet.

Cousin Jonathan did not leave town that day. Captain Ray did.

When the winter was coming, Lescombe had its master back again, but he did not come alone. Alice lived a happy woman for she had one ever with her who could guide her right, and sometimes she used to call him 'Cousin Jonathan.'

THE SINGER NEW FAMILY

SEWING MACHINE.

THE superior merits of the "Singer" Machines over all others, for either FAMILY USE or MANUFACTURING PURPOSES, are so well established and so genbrally admitted, that an enumeration of their relative excellencies is no longer considered necessary.

THE LETTER "A" FAMILY MACHINE,

hitherto manufactured by this Company, has gained and maintained the world over, and for years past, an unparalleled reputation and sale. But notwithstanding the excellence of this Machine, we have now to announce that it has been superseded by our which has been over two years in preparation, and which has been brought to perfection regardless of TIME, LABOR or EXPENSE, and is now confidently presented to the public as incomparably the BEST SEWING MACHINE IN EXISTENCE.

The machine in question is SIMPLE, COMPACT, DURABLE and BEAUTIFUL. It is QUIET, LIGHT RUNNING, and CAPABLE OF PERFORMING A RANGE AND VARIETY OF WORK never before attempted upon a single machine—using either silk, twist, linen or cotton thread, and sewing with equal facility the VERY FINEST and coarsest materials, and any thing between the two extremes, in the most beautiful and substantial manner. Its attachments for hemming, braiding, cording, tucking, quilting, felling, trimming, binding, etc., are novel and practical, and have been invented and adjusted especially for this machine.

SNOW POWDER

Patented May 29, 1866.

This is an article for washing without rubbing, except in very dirty places, which will require a very slight rub, and unlike other preparations offered for a like purpose, WILL NOT ROT THE CLOTHES, but will leave them much WHITER than ordinary methods, without the usual wear and tear.

It removes grease spots as if by magic, and softens the dirt by soaking, so that rinsing will in ordinary cases entirely remove it.

This powder is prepared in accordance with chemical science, and upon a process peculiar to itself, which is secured by Letters Patent. It has been in use for more than a year, and has proved itself an universal favorite wherever it has been used.—Among the advantages claimed are the following, viz:—

It saves all the expense of soap usually used on cotton and linen goods.

It saves most of the labor of rubbing, and wear and tear.

Also, for cleaning windows it is unsurpassed.—With one quarter the time and labor usually required it imparts a beautiful gloss and lustre, much superior to any other mode. No water required except to moisten the powder.

Directions with each package.

And can be readily appreciated by a single trial. The cost of washing for a family of five or six persons will not exceed THREE CENTS.

The manufacturers of this powder are aware that many useless compounds have been introduced to the public which have rotted the cloth, or failed in removing the dirt, but knowing the intrinsic excellence of this article, they confidently proclaim it as being adapted to meet a demand which has long existed, and which has heretofore remained unsupplied. Manufactured by

HOWE & STEVENS,

THESE UNEQUALLED MACHINES are adapted to every variety of sewing for family wear, from the lightest muslins to the heaviest cloths.—They work equally well upon silk, linen, woollen, and cotton goods, with silk, cotton, or linen thread. They will seam, quilt, gather, hem, fell, cord, braid, bind, and perform every species of sewing, making a beautiful and perfect stitch, alike on both sides of the article sewed.

The QUALITIES which recommend the Wheeler & Wilson Machines are:

1. Beauty and excellence of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed.
2. Strength, firmness, and durability of seam, that will not rip nor ravel.
3. Economy of thread.
4. Its attachments and wide range of application to purposes and materials.
5. Compactness and elegance of model and finish
6. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction.
7. Speed, ease of operation and management, and quietness of movement.

American & Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.

No. 78 State Street, (opposite Kilby street,) Boston.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS; every one of which was decided in his favor by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,"
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can not employ a man more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,"
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

MADAME ZADOC PORTER'S

Curative Cough Balsam,

PRICE, 25 AND 50 CENTS PER BOTTLE.

The Best, Cheapest, and Most effectual Remedy for Coughs, Colds, &c. the World has ever produced. Purely Vegetable, contains no MINERALS, or other DELETERIOUS DRUGS.

The CURATIVE BALSAM is Warranted, if used according to Directions, to CURE in all cases, Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, and all affections of the Throat and Lungs.

Madame Zadoc Porter's Balsam is a PURELY VEGETABLE EXPECTORANT, prepared with great care and scientific skill, from a combination of the best remedies the vegetable kingdom affords.

Its remedial qualities are based on its power to assist the healthy and vigorous circulation of the Blood through the Lungs.

It enlivens the muscles and assists the skin to perform the duties of regulating the heat of the system, and in gently throwing off the waste substance from the surface of the body.

It loosens the phlegm, induces free spitting, and will be found very agreeable to the taste. It is not a violent remedy, but emollient, warming, searching and effective; can be taken by the oldest person or youngest child.

If you have a Cold, if ever so slight, do not fail to give the Balsam a trial, as the very low price at which it is sold brings it in the reach of every one, that they may always keep it convenient for use.

The timely use of a 25 cent bottle will often prove to be worth one hundred times its cost.

Sold by all Druggists.

CONSTITUTION

LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all disease originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

L

SCROFULA,

STRUMA, GLANDULAR SWELLINGS,
ULCERATION, KING'S EVIL,
ERYSIPELAS, SALT RHEUM

This taint (HEREDITARY and ACQUIRED,) filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

RHEUMATISM.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in rehumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of twenty or thirty years standing have been cured.

I

NERVOUSNESS.

Nervous Debility, Shattered Nerves,
St. Vitus' Dance, Loss of Power,
Confusion of Thought, Epilepsy.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering women will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfills more than it promise

MERCURIAL DISEASES.

Salivation, Rotting of Bones;
Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones,
Feeling of Weakness, Depression of Spirits.

F

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains, which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases, of the Skin like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES,

and all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

E

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

CURES ALL SWELLING OF THE GLANDS,

Either of the Face, Neck, or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking, and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

S

All scrofulous persons suffering from general Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia and Dropsey of the limbs, abdomen, and in the female, Dropsey of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort.

Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body, will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife, or operations of any kind.

Y

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Disease of the Heart, as palpitation, Disease of the Valves producing a grating or filing sound, Dropsey of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ (persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart), will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

BROKEN DOWN AND DELICATE CONSTITUTIONS SUFFERING FROM INDISPOSITION TO EXERTION, PAIN IN THE BACK, LOSS OF MEMORY, FOREBODINGS, HORROR OF CALAMITY, FEAR OF DISEASE, DIMNESS OF VISION, DRY, HOT SKIN AND EXTREMITIES, WANT OF SLEEP, RESTLESSNESS, PALE, HAGGARD COUNTENANCE, AND LASSITUDE OF THE MUSCULAR SYSTEM, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

R

FOR ALL FORMS OF

Ulcerative Diseases,

Either of the NOSE, THROAT, TONGUE, SPINE, FOREHEAD OR SCALP, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face depending upon the diseased action of the liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP, will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In the diseases of the Liver giving rise to Langour, Dizziness, Indigestion, Weak Stomach, or an ulcerated or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, will be relieved by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

U

AS A GENERAL BLOOD PURIFYING AGENT THE LIFE SYRUP STANDS UNRIVALLED BY ANY PREPARATION IN THE WORLD.

THE RICH AND POOR

are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science has made the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD

Produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death is the result.

THE

BEST COOKING STOVE,

IN THE MARKET,

"PEERLESS," FOR COAL OR WOOD

THE "PEERLESS" has all the ... the popular stoves in use, together with ... NEW FEATURES as justify the manufacturers in calling it the BEST COOKING STOVE in the market.

It is the "PEERLESS," because it is superior to all other Cooking Stoves in Economy, Simplicity, Cleanliness, Baking, Roasting and Beauty.

1st, ECONOMY. A patented method of heating the air and conveying it through the oven, saves from twenty to thirty per cent. of fuel.

2d, SIMPLICITY. It is easily managed. The fire can be perfectly controlled, and kept through an entire season without rekindling.

3d, CLEANLINESS. No dust escapes while shaking or dumping the grate.

4th, BAKING. Its large oven, wherein all parts are of equal temperature, bakes as evenly as a brick oven, and that without turning the article. It bakes quickly. It will bake upon the oven rack quickly, evenly and well at the same time the oven bottom is fully employed in baking or roasting.

5th, ROASTING. A current of hot air constantly passing through the oven, so thoroughly ventilates it, that it roasts as well as a tin kitchen.

6th, BEAUTY. Made of the best iron, it will not crack. Well mounted, artistically designed and smoothly cast, it is the most beautiful as well as the most serviceable stove in the market.

Each stove WARRANTED to be and to do all that is claimed for it.
